TREATMENT CONSENT:

I hereby authorize VM Clinic, its physicians, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, and other healthcare professionals to evaluate and treat me for my medical condition(s). I understand that this may include physical examinations, diagnostic tests, medical treatments, and other procedures deemed necessary for my care.

I understand that all procedures and treatments will be explained to me, including the potential risks and benefits.

I have the right to ask questions and receive answers that I understand. I have the right to refuse or withdraw consent to treatment at any time, understanding that this may affect the care I receive.

I understand that I am financially responsible for all services rendered, including those not covered by insurance.

I agree to pay any co-pays, deductibles, or other charges as required. I understand that payment, proof of insurance, and/or copay are due at the time of service.

I authorize this office to apply benefits on my behalf for the covered services rendered.

I certify that the insurance information I have provided is factual and correct

ADVANCE DIRECTIVES

An Advance Directive is a document that states in writing your wishes about what type of care you would want or do not want, in case you get hurt, sick or become unable to make medical decisions for yourself. On the form, you may choose an adult relative, spouse, partner, or friend as your “agent” to make these decisions when the time comes. You must sign your name and write the date on the form

You can write or fill out your own advanced directive if you are 18 years old or older and are able to make your own decisions. You do not need a lawyer to fill out the document, but it must be signed by a notary public or by 2 witnesses. Your “agent” cannot be one of the witnesses.

Choose a person you trust. After you choose this person, talk to them in detail about what you want. Make sure this person knows your wishes and is willing to make them for you. Talk with your doctor and “agent” about what you want and give them both a copy. Your doctor may ask you to sign a form that states you have talked to them about this document

You may change or cancel your advance directive at any time, as long as you are aware of how the choices impact your health care. Being aware means, you can still think and voice your wishes in a clear manner. You can also change your “agent”. Make sure your doctor and your “agent” know about any changes

The best time to sign an advanced directive is when you are healthy and are able to think and speak for yourself. Having a plan in place will ensure that your wishes are followed

Most hospital emergency rooms and Orange County Office on Aging have these forms. Call 1-800-510-2020 for more information. You do not need to use a form. You can also write your wishes down on paper and have this document signed instead.

NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I understand that under the Health Insurance Portability & Accountability Act of 1994 (HIPAA). I have certain rights to privacy regarding my protected health information; I understand that this information can and will be used to:

- Conduct plan and direct my treatment and follow-up among the multiple health care providers who may be involved in that treatment directly and indirectly.
- Obtain payment from third party payers.
- Conduct normal healthcare operations such as quality assessments and physician certifications

I have received, read, understood your “Notice of Privacy Practices” containing a more completed description of the uses and disclosures of my health information. I understand that this organization has the right to change its “Notice of Privacy Practices” from this to time and that I may contact this organization at any time at the address above to obtain a current copy of the “Notice of Privacy Practice”.

I understand that I may request in writing that you restrict how my private information is used or disclosed to carry out treatment, payment or healthcare operations. I also understand you are not required to comply with my requested restrictions. By signing this form, you acknowledge that you received the Notice of Privacy Practices of the VM Clinic. The Notice tells you how we may use and disclose your protected health information. Copies of the current notice are also available on our website www.vmclinic.us
